

Resource List
November 2014

The Detroit Future City Resource List is a list of organizations across Detroit, or in a specific community that are working to improve their geography in many varied respects. This list is by no means exhaustive of the resources present in the city and those making a difference, but represents organizations that we have a relationship with. This list can serve as a starting point for organizing, planning, referrals or partnering for projects and other opportunities. We hope you find it helpful and if your organization is missing, or information is incorrect, please send us the information at 'info@detroitfuturecity.com' and we will update periodically.
